How to Write an Address

1. Ima -ji -fun desu

To ask the time, nan is placed in front of -ji or -pun.

- ① Ima nan-ji desu ka. What time is it now?
7-ji 10-pun desu.It's 7:10.

2. V-masu/V-masen/V-mashita/V-masendeshita

- 1) V-masu works as a predicate. Using masu shows politeness toward the listener.
 ② Watashi wa mainichi benkyō-shimasu. I study every day.
- 2) V-masu is used when a sentence expresses something habitual or a truth. It is also used when a sentence expresses a behavior or event that will occur in the future. The table below shows its negative and past-tense forms.

	Non-past (future/present)	Past
Affirmative	okimasu	okimashita
Negative	okimasen	okimasendeshita

- ③ Maïasa 6-ji ni okimasu. I get up at six every morning.
- ④ Ashita 6-ji ni okimasu. I'm going to get up at six tomorrow morning.
- ⑤ Kesa 6-ji ni okimashita. I got up at six this morning.
- 3) Verb question sentences are formed by putting ka at the end of the sentence, without changing the word order. When using an interrogative, this is placed in the part of the sentence that the speaker wants to ask about. When answering such questions, the verb in the question is repeated. Sō desu and chigaimasu (see Lesson 2) cannot be used when replying to a verb sentence question.
