IV. Grammar Notes

1. koko/soko/asoko/kochira/sochira/achira

The demonstratives koko, soko and asoko refer to places. Koko indicates the place where the speaker is, soko the place where the listener is, and asoko a place distant from both the speaker and the listener. Kochira, sochira and achira refer to direction and can also be used as politer-sounding alternatives for koko, soko and asoko.

[Note] When the speaker regards the listener as sharing his/her territory, the place where they both are is designated by koko. In this situation, soko indicates a place slightly distant from where they both are, and asoko somewhere even further away.

2. N wa place desu

Using this sentence pattern, you can state where a place, thing or person is.

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| ① Otearai wa asoko desu. | The toilet is over there. |
| ② Denwa wa 2-kai desu. | The telephone is on the second floor. |
| ③ Yamada-san wa jimusho desu. | Mr. Yamada is in his office. |

3. doko/dochira

Doko is used for asking "Where?" and dochira for "Which direction?" Dochira can also be used for asking "Where?", in which case it is politer than doko.

- | | |
|-------------------------------|---|
| ④ Otearai wa doko desu ka. | Where's the toilet? |
|Asoko desu. |It's over there. |
| ⑤ Erebētā wa dochira desu ka. | Where's the lift? |
|Achira desu. |It's in that direction. (It's over there.) |

Doko and dochira are also used for asking the name of the country, company, school or other place or organisation to which someone belongs. Nan cannot be used in this case. Dochira is politer than doko.

- ⑥ Gakkō wa doko desu ka. What school do you go to?
- ⑦ Kaisha wa dochira desu ka. What company do you work for?

4. N_1 no N_2

When N_1 is the name of a country and N_2 is the name of a product, it means that N_2 is made in that country. When N_1 is the name of a company and N_2 is the name of a product, it means that N_2 is made by that company. The interrogative doko is used when asking where or by what company something is made.

- ⑧ Kore wa doko no konpyūtā desu ka. Where is this computer made? /
What company is this computer made by?
.....Nihon no konpyūtā desu. It's made in Japan.
.....Pawā-denki no konpyūtā desu.
.....It's made by Power Electric Company.

5. The ko/so/a/do system of demonstratives

	ko series	so series	a series	do series
Thing	kore	sore	are	dore (L .16)
Thing/Person	kono N	sono N	ano N	dono N (L .16)
Place	koko	soko	asoko	doko
Direction/ Place (polite)	kochira	sochira	achira	dochira

6. ☐ Yes

The prefix o- is added to things related to the listener or a third party in order to show the speaker's respect toward that person.

- ⑨ [O-]kuni wa dochira desu ka. What country are you from?
